

Sharon Ricks MA
Deputy Regional Health Administrator
U.S. Department of Health and Human Services

In her role with DHHS, Mrs. Ricks promotes public health programs, strategies, and messages that have the power to improve the lives for 62 million Americans who live within her eight-state jurisdiction. Mrs. Ricks has 28 years of federal experience split between the U.S. Agency for International Development and the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. At HHS, she has worked at the National Institute of Diabetes and Digestive and Kidney Diseases, the National Heart, Lung, and Blood Institute, the National Institute on Deafness and Other Communication Disorders, and the Office of the Assistant Secretary for Health. Mrs. Ricks received her B.S. in Journalism from the University of Maryland University College and her MA in Journalism from Regent University.