

Mitch Rothholz RPh, MBA
Chief Strategy Officer
American Pharmacists Association (APhA)

Mr. Rothholz is a nationally recognized expert on Pharmacy-Based Immunization Delivery, and serves as a national faculty member for APhA's Certificate Training Program. He serves as Secretary for the Joint Commission of Pharmacy Practitioners, a collaborative forum of 11 national pharmacist organizations. He currently serves on the HHS National Vaccine Advisory Committee (NVAC), Leadership Steering Committee of the National Adult and Influenza Immunization Summit (NAIIS), the Advisory Board of the Immunization Action Coalition, and the HHS - NVAC's Adult Vaccination Working Group. He is a participant on several immunization stakeholder task forces, and is involved in numerous immunization grant and cooperative agreements. He has assisted numerous pharmacists in implementing immunization and other patient care services and has made presentations to public policy makers and the media on pharmacy-based immunizations, immunizations across the lifespan and advances in pharmacy practice. He has worked on projects involving collaboration between pharmacists, physicians and other healthcare professionals leading to improved patient care outcomes.