

Give It our best shot Adult vaccinations for Ob Gyn Providers

Wednesday, December 11, 1 PM ET,

Register today for a free, 1 CME credit webinar sponsored by ACOG's Immunization Program. The webinar will explain the importance of annual influenza immunization for patients, especially pregnant women. Continuing Medical Education credit is provided through joint providership with The American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists.

Upon completion of the webinar participants will be able to

- Identify at least three adult vaccines recommended for routine use in adult patients.
- Address the most common concerns and misconceptions around vaccines.
- Identify, locate, and provide patient resources.
- Incorporate immunizations into routine practice.

Questions? Contact us at immunization@acog.org

Accreditation

The American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

■

The American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists designates this enduring material for a maximum of 1 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

College Cognate Credit(s)

The American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists designates this enduring material for a maximum of 1 Category 1 College Cognate Credit. The College has a reciprocity agreement with the AMA that allows AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™ to be equivalent to College Cognate Credits.

This webinar is supported by an independent educational grant from Merck, Inc. ACOG does not allow companies to influence ACOG's programs, publications, or advocacy positions.

Immunization for Women

For more information:

www.immunizationforwomen.org

The American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists
WOMEN'S HEALTH CARE PHYSICIANS