

Maggie A. Zettle PharmD
Management Analyst
National Vaccine Program Office (NVPO)

Lieutenant (LT) Maggie Zettle currently leads the office efforts on adult immunizations with the recent development of the draft National Adult Immunization Plan. Pharmacy-based immunizations and improving the rates of Human Papillomavirus vaccination rates are other important aspects of her portfolio.

LT Zettle has been an officer of United States Public Health Service since 2012 and has completed a tour of duty as a clinical pharmacist with the Indian Health Service with an assignment in Winslow, Arizona. During her time as a clinical pharmacist, LT Zettle was the Vaccines for Children coordinator for her clinic. She participated in the Junior Commissioned Officer Student Training and Externship Program with the National Institutes of Health, National Institute on Drug Abuse prior to graduation from pharmacy school. She is a member of the Rapid Deployment Force Team 4, the District of Columbia Commissioned Officers Association, and participates on USPHS Junior Officer Advisory Group committees.

LT Zettle has a Doctor of Pharmacy degree from Ohio Northern University in Ada, Ohio. She is married and spends her free time cooking, traveling, and learning the art of flying trapeze.