

Aparna Ramakrishnan MA, MSW
Senior Health Communication Specialist
Contractor with NCIRD Health Communication Science Office

Aparna Ramakrishnan is a contractor supporting NCIRD's Health Communication Science office. She is currently a member of the adult immunization communication team, and responsible for strategy, research, message and materials development.

Prior to this role, Ms. Ramakrishnan served as a Senior Program Manager at AED's Center for Health Communication, where she supported CDC's national pre-teen and childhood immunization campaigns as well as the Immunization Coalitions Technical Assistance Network. She has been working in immunization communication since 2007.