

JoLynn Coleman
Senior Director of Clinical Services
Walmart

Ms. Coleman has worked in several roles over her career with Walmart that began in June of 1987. In her current role, she helped build and currently leads Walmart's pharmacist administered immunization program and continues to develop new clinical service innovations for Walmart such as point-of-care testing.

She has been a registered pharmacist for over 30 years and has worked in a variety of roles; as a pharmacist on the bench, Market Director, a pharmaceutical buyer, managing Walmart's Home Delivery center, Regional Director of pharmacy operations in Kansas City MO area. With the changes in the pharmacy industry, she took on a challenge to come back to the home office and support the expansion of pharmacist provided services.

As an experienced professional and pharmacy thought leader, she is able to anticipate the specific needs of pharmacies and develop solutions that allow them to deliver new offerings as the role of the pharmacist continues to expand into delivering clinical services.
