

Marla Dalton, PE, CAE
Executive Director and Chief Executive Officer
National Foundation for Infectious Diseases (NFID)

Ms. Dalton joined the NFID staff in 2010 and has served as Executive Director and Chief Executive Officer since 2013. She is responsible for NFID educational programming and partnerships, overseeing financial operations, including fundraising and grants management, and managing NFID headquarters

Prior to joining NFID, Ms. Dalton served as Senior Vice President of Education and Consulting Services at the Association for Professionals in Infection Control and Epidemiology, Inc. (APIC), where she was responsible for the development and management of APIC educational programs and products as well as APIC Consulting Services, Inc., a wholly-owned, for-profit subsidiary. Prior to joining APIC, she was Executive Vice President of the American Society of Civil Engineers (ASCE) Industry Leaders Council and Executive Director of The Infrastructure Security Partnership.

Ms. Dalton is the proud mother of two fully-vaccinated teenage twin daughters.