

Darryl Drevna
Director of Regulatory and Public Policy
AMGA

At AMGA Mr. Drevna helps the association's members understand the regulation process and its underlying policy to empower them to make informed decisions in a complex and shifting policy environment. He focuses on physician reimbursement and payment issues that directly affect the group practice model, including regulations stemming from the Medicare Access and CHIP Reauthorization Act (MACRA), as well as the annual Medicare payment updates and the Medicare Physician Fee Schedule. He also is experienced with advanced payment models of care delivery, such as the Medicare Shared Savings Program.

Before joining AMGA, Mr. Drevna represented a number of clients' interests before government officials as part of the public policy practice at Polsinelli, a Kansas City-based law firm, where in addition to physician payment issues, he worked on post-acute care concerns, including the Medicare competitive bidding program for durable medical equipment. In his personal life, he enjoys coaching his son's little league team and volunteering as an emergency medical technician for the city of Alexandria, VA.
