

Kathleen Ryan MD
Associate Professor of Pediatrics
Division of Infectious Disease
University of Florida
Medical Coordinator, Alachua County Control Flu Program

Dr. Ryan obtained her undergraduate degree in Microbiology from the University of Massachusetts, Amherst and her MD from the University of Massachusetts Medical School in Worcester. She did both her pediatric residency and her pediatric infectious fellowship at the University of Tennessee, Memphis (LeBonheur Children's Hospital and St. Jude Children's Research Hospital). Her research during fellowship was focused on influenza A viruses, with Yoshihiro Kawaoka as her mentor in the lab of Dr. Robert Webster.

She joined the faculty at the University of Florida after her fellowship. She has practiced in both Pediatric Infectious Diseases and General Pediatrics at UF. She has been involved with the Alachua County School-Located Influenza Vaccination program (Control Flu) since its inception in 2006. She has served as the community pediatric liaison and currently serves as the medical coordinator for the program.