

David Kim MD
Deputy Associate Director for Adult Immunizations
Immunization Services Division
Centers for Disease Control and Prevention

Dr. David Kim has been with the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) since 1995 and joined the Immunization Services Division in 2014. Among other duties, he leads the Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices (ACIP) Adult Immunizations Working Group and presides over the adult immunization schedule in the United States. Prior to his work on adult immunizations, Dr. Kim worked on HIV drug resistance surveillance, public health emergency preparedness, managing quarantine stations, refugee health, and cruise ship epidemiology.

Dr. Kim is a graduate of the University of Colorado School of Medicine, and he received training in internal medicine at the University of Rochester in Rochester, NY.