

Colleen Meiman
Senior Policy Advisor
National Association of Community Health Centers (NACHC)

Ms. Meiman joined the National Association of Community Health Centers (NACHC) as the Director of Regulatory Affairs in January 2015. In her current role she is responsible for working with HRSA and other Federal agencies on policy issues that affect Health Centers and their patients.

Previously, Ms. Meiman spent over two decades in the Federal government, including in the Office of the HHS Secretary, in the US Senate, and in numerous positions within HRSA, including in the Bureau of Primary Health Care, which oversees the Community Health Center program. Her expertise is in the regulatory, administrative, and financing aspects of Section 330, Medicaid, Medicare, 340B, and the Affordable Care Act, and how they relate to health centers.
