

Jill Powelson
Senior Director of the Collaborative for Performance Excellence
AMGA

In her role at AMGA, Ms. Powelson visits and communicates with health systems and medical groups to promote and coach data-driven best practices for improving population health. Prior to joining AMGA, she was vice president for physician services at the University of Tennessee Medical Group and an executive director at Baptist Medical Group (both in Memphis, TN). She is an experienced administrator in medical group operations and has also led quality measurement, reporting, and improvement initiatives.

Prior to becoming a medical group administrator in the late 1990s, Ms. Powelson spent ten years as a consulting leader at a long term care and senior living organization. Her total healthcare career spans 30 years.

Ms. Powelson has undergraduate degrees in finance and nursing and is a registered nurse. She has masters degrees in business (University of Memphis) and public health (Johns Hopkins University), and a doctorate in public health (DrPH) from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. She is also a certified professional coder through the American Academy of Professional Coders; she is proficient in CPT, HCPCS and ICD-10-CM diagnosis coding.