

Sarah Royce, MD, MPH
Immunization Branch Chief
California Department of Public Health (CDPH)

Dr. Parker has been Immunization Branch Chief in California since 2015. Previously, she led the Medical Policy Section of the Department of Health Care Services, served as CDPH Tuberculosis Control Branch chief, and provided TB consultation to the World Health Organization.

Educated at Harvard-Radcliffe College and UCSF School of Medicine, Dr. Royce is board certified in Preventive Medicine/Occupational Health and Internal Medicine, and she has an MPH from the School of Public Health, UC Berkeley.