

Carly Edson
Community Outreach Planner, Immunization Program
Minnesota Department of Health

Carly Edson is a Community Outreach Planner in the Immunization Program at the Minnesota Department of Health. In her current position, she leads outreach efforts focusing on communities with low vaccination rates and improving vaccine confidence. She holds a masters degree in Public Health from the University of Minnesota. During the mpox (monkeypox) outbreak, Carly co-led the Outreach and Communications Branch of the ICS Response and coordinated vaccine outreach.