

Mitchell Finkel
Consultant II
Avalere

Mitchell has expertise on government-regulated market policy and access (e.g., Medicare, Medicaid, Federally Qualified Health Centers) coverage and reimbursement policies for preventive products. Mitchell assists clients in understanding the implications of Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices, United States Preventive Services Task Force and Health Resource Service Administration Recommendations. Prior to joining Avalere, Mitchell interned at Todd Strategy, where he researched and summarized regulatory and legislative issues affecting the pharmaceutical and bio-tech sectors.

Mitchell has a BS in public health from the George Washington University. Mitchell is a current member of the American Academy of Professional Coders and received his Certified Professional Biller certificate.
