

Lynn Gibbs Scharf, MPH

Chief of Immunization Information Systems Support Branch (IISB), Immunization Services Division (ISD) in the National Center for Immunization and Respiratory Diseases (NCIRD), CDC

Lynn Gibbs Scharf, MPH, is currently the Chief of the Immunization Information Systems Support Branch (IISB), Immunization Services Division (ISD) in the National Center for Immunization and Respiratory Diseases (NCIRD) at CDC. She oversees efforts to advance Immunization Information Systems (IIS) to ensure access to real-time, consolidated immunization data at the point of clinical care and for population health programs, analysis of IIS data use of functional standards, and technical assistance to the awardees of the Immunization and Vaccines for Children cooperative agreement.

Prior to joining CDC in 1997, Ms. Gibbs Scharf was an epidemiologist in the Louisiana Office of Public Health, Injury Research and Prevention Section. Her CDC career includes leadership positions in emergency preparedness, informatics, workforce development, grants, and CDC-wide business process re-engineering and system implementation.

Ms. Gibbs Scharf has a Bachelor of Science in biology and chemistry from the University of Alabama, Huntsville, and an MPH in epidemiology from the University of Alabama, Birmingham.