

Jonathan Heald
Senior Director of Clinical Policy
Infectious Diseases Society of America (IDSA)

Jonathan Heald is the Senior Director of Clinical Policy at the Infectious Diseases Society of America (IDSA), where he leads the strategy and operations of IDSA's clinical practice guideline program. He directed the development of IDSA's inaugural vaccine recommendations on COVID-19, influenza, and RSV vaccination for immunocompromised patients using GRADE methodology. His work focuses on translating complex evidence into clear, implementable recommendations that serve front-line clinicians when they need answers most.
