

Susan Lee, MD FACP
Medical Director of Stony Brook Primary Care
Deputy CMIO for SBMIT
Governor, Long Island District of NYACP

Susan Lee is a Professor of Clinical Medicine at Renaissance School of Medicine at SUNY Stony Brook where she is the Medical Director of Stony Brook Primary Care, Lead Physician for the PCMH (Patient Centered Medical Home), and a Deputy CMIO at Stony Brook Medicine.

She is a Governor for the New York Chapter of the American College of Physicians and a primary care physician at Stony Brook Primary Care who has an interest in advancing Team Based Primary Care through PCMH and Ambulatory QI.

As Deputy CMIO she is invested in promoting digital strategies to help physicians work smarter not harder.