

Nivedita (Nita) Mohanty MD, MS
Senior VP Child Health Finance and Quality

The American Academy of Pediatrics (AAP) is a non-profit professional organization of more than 67,000 primary care pediatricians, medical subspecialists, and surgical specialists dedicated to the health, safety, and well-being of all children. Dr. Mohanty serves as the Senior Vice President of Child Health Finance and Quality (CHFQ). She is responsible for providing leadership and strategic guidance to advance AAP initiatives in areas that include Pediatric Practice and Healthcare Delivery, Immunizations, Primary Care, Evidence Based Medicine, Child Health Finance and Payment, Quality and Safety, and Health Information Technology.

Dr. Mohanty joined the AAP in August of 2024. Prior to her role at AAP, she served as the Chief Health Impact Officer of a support organization to a large network of primary care centers across 19 states where she oversaw Practice Transformation, Quality and Safety, and Research initiatives with a focus on improving outcomes for patients and the workforce. She continues to provide patient care in Chicago. She is a Clinical Associate Professor at the Northwestern University Feinberg School of Medicine and has been a volunteer for global organizations with whom she provided care to families in 12 countries.

In addition to her medical training and residency in pediatrics, Dr. Mohanty holds a master's degree in Healthcare Quality and Patient Safety. She completed a Science and Technology Policy fellowship with the American Association for the Advancement of Science in Washington, DC exploring the intersection of Health Information Technology and national health priorities.
