

Erica Reott, MPH

Associate Director for Policy

Coronavirus and Other Respiratory Viruses Division (CORVD), NCIRD, CDC

Erica Reott, MPH is the Associate Director for Policy for the Coronavirus and Other Respiratory Viruses Division (CORVD) in CDC's National Center for Immunization and Respiratory Diseases where she is responsible for overseeing policy analysis and education, budget formulation, partnerships, performance reporting, and issues management. Erica served in multiple roles in the COVID-19 response, most recently in 2022 as a Deputy Principal Deputy Incident Manager. She started her federal service as a Presidential Management Fellow in 2009 in CDC's National Center on Birth Defects and Developmental Disabilities (NCBDDD), where she eventually was the Chief Strategy Officer, leading goal management, strategic planning, and evaluation in support of public health priorities related to birth defects, blood disorders, and disabilities. She has also held roles in CDC's Injury Center and Office of Appropriations. Erica has a Master of Public Health in health policy and administration from Yale University and a Bachelor of Arts in political science and a Bachelor of Health Science summa cum laude from the University of Florida.