

Heather Richmond

National Immunization Policy and Advocacy Lead
Dynavax

Heather joined the Dynavax medical affairs team in March 2023 as the lead for national Immunization Policy and Advocacy. She joins Dynavax after 20 years of leadership, strategic development and management for several vaccine manufacturers. Heather is dedicated to finding solutions to immunization access issues and sharing information to improve adult vaccine rates. She has extensive experience working with coalitions, advocacy groups and subject matter experts to increase awareness on immunization across the lifespan with a particular emphasis on adults. She is a former board member of the Maryland Partnership for Prevention and served on numerous workgroups and coalitions in support of disease prevention education and information sharing across multiple stakeholders.
