

LaTasha Seliby Perkins, MD, FAAFP
Medical Director for the American Academy of Family Physician
Board of Directors of AAFP
Delegate to the American Medical Association
President of the DC Chapter of AFP

LaTasha Seliby Perkins, MD, FAAFP, is a Medical Director for the American Academy of Family Physician, she has served on the Board of Directors of AAFP and is currently a delegate to the American Medical Association and the President of the DC Chapter of AFP. Dr. Seliby was a AAFP Vaccine Science Fellow as well as Leadership through Scholarship Fellow at the Society of Teachers of Family Medicine. She is an Associate Professor of Family Medicine at Georgetown University School of Medicine, where she is a Course Director and Core Faculty in the Family Medicine Residency program. Clinically, she provides comprehensive, preventive health care and promotion for the patients at Medstar Primary Care at Ft. Lincoln as a licensed, Board certified physician.

Dr. Seliby Perkins completed her Health Media/ Faculty Development Fellowship at Georgetown School of Medicine in 2015. She completed her residency in Spartanburg Regional Family Medicine Program in 2013. She graduated with her MD from the University of Alabama, Birmingham SOM in 2010, and her B.S. in Exercise Biology from the University of California, Davis 2003. She enjoys spending time with her husband Gil, daughter Gaia-Noelle (7), and infant son Levi-Rashad (10m).