

Nandini Selvam PhD, MPH
President, IQVIA Government Solutions
VP and GM, IQVIA

Dr. Nandini Selvam is President, IQVIA Government Solutions, and VP and GM at IQVIA, a Fortune 300, multinational healthcare services company, where she is responsible for all aspects of business and scientific strategy. She has a background in Science and Business, and has over 20 years of experience in healthcare, research, strategy, portfolio management, profit and loss, business development, and personnel management in consulting, pharma, government, and academic settings. She is an experienced Epidemiologist who has worked across disease and therapeutic areas; vaccines, infectious and chronic disease epidemiology, surveillance, domestic and global health policy, and public health.