

Eric Stein
Survivor and Brother
Marketing, Communications, and Program Specialist
Families Fighting Flu

Eric Stein and his older sister Jessica Stein both got the flu around the same time in 2002. Eric recovered; however, Jessica passed away at the age of four. Ever since that moment, Eric and the rest of his family have been advocating for the importance of the annual flu vaccine and educating others about the seriousness of Influenza in honor of Jessica.

Eric graduated from the University of Tennessee with a degree in Marketing and Advertising. Eric started as a volunteer and advocate and became the Marketing, Communications, and Programs Specialist for Families Fighting Flu in January 2024. In his role, Eric passionately continues to promote the flu vaccine in honor of his sister and wants to do everything he can to help increase vaccine confidence among the public and help save lives.
